

Meet Emilie Leneuve...

Emilie is an entrepreneur with a passion for equity, education and the environment. She has studied in various fields from biotechnology to design thinking, project management and marketing, giving her a unique perspective in a variety of industries. Emilie believes that youth representation is required at all levels of governance and that sustainable practices and intersectional thinking are key pillars to successful policy making.

Currently an AMO Youth Fellow, member of the Quinte Regional Science and Technology Fair Board, QuinteVation Summit Planning Board, and of the CCUNESCO Youth Advisory, Education Sectoral Group and City of Belleville Youth Advisory Committees. Emilie is equally passionate about mental well-being and a mental health speaker and advocate with Jack.org. She is a Co-Founder of The Positivity Project and the Marketing and PR Manager at We Be Us Community. She was Loyalist College's Valedictorian in 2018, having graduated with an Advanced Diploma in Biotechnology before furthering her studies in the Tech Sector."
